

Privacy Statement 2018

On 25th May 2018, a new data protection law called the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into force. GDPR replaces the current Data Protection Act 1998. One of the requirements of this law is that the Academy is required to keep you informed about what data we collect and how and why we need to collect it.

The Academy is required by law to collect and process personal data relating to all of its pupils. The Academy is committed to being transparent about how it collects and uses that data and to meeting its data protection obligations.

What data do we collect?

The Academy collects and processes a wide range of information about your child. This includes:

Personal information such as: name, date of birth, unique pupil number and address;
Characteristics such as: ethnicity, language, nationality, country of birth and free school meal eligibility;

Attendance information such as: the number of sessions attended, the number of absences and the reasons for those absences.

Assessment information such as current pupil progress, predicted progress and, where appropriate, data relating to any assessments, tests or exams undertaken.

Relevant medical information, including any conditions or allergies your child may have, the need for epi-pens/medication, emergency contact and doctors details.

Special educational needs information. This includes information about any particular needs that your child has, any funding that is received specifically for your child and any statements of individual need.

Behavioural information, which may include information about your child's general classroom behaviour including any awards gained, together with any detentions fixed-term or permanent exclusions they have received.

Pastoral and safeguarding information, including notes on any home visits undertaken.

Why do we collect and use this information?

The Academy uses this data to:

Support learning.

Monitor and report on pupil progress, enabling suitable interventions to be put in place where required.

Provide appropriate pastoral care and ensure your child has access to appropriate support.

Assess the quality of our services.

Comply with the law regarding data sharing.

The lawful basis on which we use this information

We collect and use pupil information under Article 6 of the GDPR as follows:

1. Consent – the individual has given clear consent for the academy to process their child’s personal data for a specific purpose.
2. Legal obligation – the collection and use of this information is necessary for the Academy to comply with the law – i.e. to send pupil census information to the Department of Education (DfE) on a twice-yearly basis as directed by the Education Act 1996.
3. Vital interests – the collection and use of this information is necessary to safeguard our pupils. For example personal information can be passed on to a hospital should a pupil become ill at school.
4. Public task – the processing of such data is necessary for the academy to carry out its official functions.

Collecting pupil information

Whilst the majority of the pupil information you provide to us is required by law, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with the GDPR, when requesting information we will inform you whether you are required to provide certain pupil information to us or if you have a choice in this.

Storing pupil data

We hold pupil data for the duration your child is at the school. When your child transfers to secondary school their school file will transfer with them; a copy will not be held in the Academy.

Information-sharing

We routinely share pupil information with:

Schools that your child attends after leaving us

Blackpool local authority

The DfE.

P & A Catering.

Parent Pay.

Why we share pupil information

We do not share information about our pupils with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so. We share pupil data with the DfE on a statutory basis. This data-sharing underpins school funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring. We are required to share information about our pupils with the DfE under regulation 5 of The Education (Information about Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013. To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education, for example the obligation on us to complete and return the school census, go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the DfE and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the DfE. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law to provide information about our pupils to the DfE as part of statutory collections such as the school census and early year's census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information about Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013. To find out more about NPS, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>.

The DfE share information about our pupils from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- Conducting research or analysis
- Producing statistics
- Providing information, advice and guidance

The DfE has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- Who is requesting the data
- The purposes for which it is required
- The level and sensitivity of data requested; and
- The arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to pupil information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of data.
